Endorsements

As defined by the FCSI The Americas governing documents, applicants for Senior Associate membership are required to obtain an endorsement from a Professional member of FCSI who is not a partner, co-worker, employer or employee of the applicant. When possible, applicants should secure endorsements from Professional members within their own area of focus (MAS applicants obtain endorsements from MAS Professional members and design applicants obtain endorsements from Professional members who specialize in design), or the applicant may secure an endorsement from a Professional member with whom they have previously worked on a project. In the event that the applicant can not secure an endorsement, he/she will be interviewed by two members of the Membership Committee.

Please choose one of the options below:

Name of Endorser:
Endorser must be a current FCSI Professional member in good standing who is not your partner, co-worker, employer or employee
